Pongal festival is basically a harvesting festival or thanks giving festival because this festival is celebrated to thank sun god and lord Indra for helping farmers in getting better-yielding crops. This celebration symbolizes gratitude, prosperity and the spirit of togetherness among the students. Hence we students and faculty members of Department of Mathematics celebrate the Pongal on 12/01/2024 to thank god Surya by cooking pongal in the ground. After that students and staff prayed god Surya followed by Kummi Aattam, it is often danced during festival by south Indian women in circle. Then Sweet pongal was distributed to all students and staff.

Day : 1	CAMP REPORT
Date : 02/02/2024

Introduction

On the inaugural day of our rural camp, students conducted an inauguration ceremony at Kallipatti village on 02/02/2024 at 6:00 p.m. The inauguration ceremony was done by Mr Vignesh Kumar, Assistant Professor, Department of Social Work, NGM College, in the presence of Ms Kavya and Mr Mahesh Kumar (Camp Coordinators), and Vignesh Kumar sir shared detailed information regarding the camp to the public.

Welcome Address

The guest shared the camp's benefits and programs aimed at providing participants with opportunities for developing rural areas. These camps often focus on outdoor activities, environmental conservation, cultural exchange, and skill-building exercises. Participants, who can range from children to adults, are usually encouraged to immerse themselves in nature, learn about sustainable practices, and develop a deeper understanding and appreciation for rural life. It is a unique opportunity for individuals to gain hands-on experience, learn new skills, and form lasting friendships with like-minded people from diverse backgrounds. In addition to personal growth and skill development, rural camps can have broader benefits for communities, including boosting local economies through tourism, supporting sustainable agriculture and environmental conservation efforts, and preserving cultural traditions and heritage.

Student Learnings

As the inaugural day of our MSW (Master of Social Work) student's rural camp comes to a close, it's evident that this immersive experience holds tremendous potential for our collective growth and learning. வேலைவாய்ப்புகளைக் கொண்ட மொழிபெயர்ப்புத்துறையில் மாணவர்கள் கவனம் செலுத்துமாறு அறிவுறுத்தினார். கவிதை, கட்டுரை, சிறுகதை போன்ற படைப்பிலக்கிய வகைகளை மொழிபெயர்க்க முடியும். ஒரு மொழியில் இயல்பாக பேச முற்படுதலே மொழிபெயர்ப்பாகும் என்றரைத்தார். இதனைத் தொடர்ந்து தமிழ்த்துறை உதவிப்பேராசிரியர் முனைவர்.ம.சித்ரகலா அவர்கள் நன்றியுரை வழங்கினார்.

3. தமிழ் - மலையாள மொழிபெயர்ப்பு அனுபவங்கள் - முனைவர் எஸ்.பாத்திமா கருத்தரங்கின் மூன்றாம் அமர்வின் சிறப்பு விருந்தினராக கேரளா, சித்தூர் அரசுக் கல்லூரியின் உதவிப்பேராசிரியர் முனைவர் எஸ்.பாத்திமா இருமொழிகளின் - மலையாள மொழிபெயர்ப்பு அனுபவங்கள்” என்னும் தலைப்பில் இருமொழிகளின் பண்பாட்டுக்கூறுகள், வழக்காறுகள், சமூகம் சார்ந்த செய்திகளை அறிவதோடு மொழியுணர்வும் இருப்பது அவசியம் என இயம்பினார். மூலநூலின் செய்திகளை மிகைப்படுத்தியும், குறைப்படுத்தியும் கூறுவது தவறு. மும்மொழி அகராதி அவசியம் போன்ற கருத்துகளைக் கூறினார். அகாலம் என்பது இவரின் முதல் மொழிபெயர்ப்பு நூல்.

4. தமிழ்-ஆங்கிலம், ஆங்கிலம்-தமிழ் மொழிபெயர்ப்பு - முனைவர்.ச.முத்துக்குமரவேல் நான்காம் அமர்வின் சிறப்பு விருந்தினராக நல்லமுத்துக் கவுண்டர் மகாலிங்கம் கல்லூரியின் ஆங்கிலவிலக்கியத் துறைத்தலைவர் முனைவர்.ச.முத்துக்குமரவேல் அவர்கள் “தமிழ்-ஆங்கிலம், ஆங்கிலம்-தமிழ் மொழிபெயர்ப்பு” என்னும் தலைப்பில் சிறப்புரையாற்றினார். ‘சென்றிடுவீர் எட்டுத்திக்கும் கலைச்செல்வங்கள் யாவும் கொணர்ந்திங்கு சேர்ப்பீர் என்னும் பாரதியாரின் வாக்கிற்கிணங்க பிறமொழி இலக்கிய அறிவைப் பெற வழிவகுக்கும் மொழிபெயர்ப்புத்துறையின் சிறப்புகளை எடுத்துரைத்ததோடு மாணவர்கள் எவ்வாறு மொழிபெயர்ப்பு புரியவேண்டும் என்ற வழிமுறைகளையும் விளக்கியுரைத்தார்.

தமிழ்த்துறை உதவிப்பேராசிரியர் முனைவர்.ந.பிரகாஷ் அவர்கள் நன்றியுரை வழங்க கருத்தரங்கு இனிதே நிறைவுற்றது. இக்கருத்தரங்கில் 400க்கும் மேற்பட்ட மாணவ மாணவியர்களும், தமிழ்த்துறைப் பேராசிரியர்களும், பிறதுறைப் பேராசிரியர்களும் கலந்துகொண்டு பயன் பெற்றனர். இந்நிகழ்விற்கான ஏற்பாடுகளை தமிழ்த்துறைப் பேராசிரியர்கள் செய்திருந்தனர்.

The course is highly integrative in nature in order to ensure vertical and horizontal mobility of students. Curricular contents range from the Classical Botany to Applied Botany including Plant Biotechnology, Molecular Biology, and Bioinformatics and Bio nanotechnology. The infrastructure and the expertise available in the department have elevated it into a recognized research centre of Bharathiar University to carry out research in both fundamental and applied fields of Botany to award M.Phil (full time/part time) and Ph.D. degrees.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Milletts dominate India's agriculture, constituting 80% of Asia's Sorghum and millet production. With an annual output of 15.53 million tons on 12.45 million hectares, they contribute 10% to India's food grain basket. Milletts are climate-resilient "famine reserves" with a short growing season and extended shelf-life. These superfoods are rich in minerals and dietary fiber.

Combating iron deficiency and surpassing rice and wheat in calcium, iron, and beta-carotene content. Gluten-free and low glycemic, millets are ideal for celiac patients and diabetics. Thus, promotion of millets farming can help in fighting malnutrition. With the aim to create awareness and to increase production & consumption of millets, the United Nations, at the behest of the Government of India, declared 2023 as the International Year of Millets. Hence, we believe that the National seminar on "CELEBRATING MILLETS LEGACY & CONTRIBUTION TO AGRICULTURE" would bring new insights into the millet revolution for a healthier, sustainable future. Furthermore, the aim is to establish a shared platform that brings together academics, research scholars, and students to explore and discuss cutting-edge advancements in future food sources. The lectures will also enlighten the young minds and budding research scholars to focus on the latest trends and updates in the nutritional benefits of millets for better health.

- ### OBJECTIVES
1. Encourage local farmers to grow millets to diversify agriculture and income sources.
 2. Support small-scale millet producers and empower rural communities.
 3. Educate consumers on the nutritional benefits of millets for better health.
 4. Raise awareness about the wide variety of dishes that can be prepared from millets.
 5. Promote millet-based snacks as a healthier alternative to processed foods.
 6. Work with schools and colleges to include millets in their meal plans.
 7. Collaborate with chefs to create innovative millet recipes.

She extended her welcome to the principal and staff members of our own Department, PG and Research Department of Botany, Chemistry, Zoology, Yoga, and Commerce, the deans of various Departments, Managers, Research Scholars, and Students.

Felicitations were made with a shawl and memento.

Principal Dr. R. Muthukumaran felicitated the three-day national-level seminar on Celebrating Millets Legacy and Contribution to Agriculture by emphasizing the need to understand the importance of millets. He mentioned the role of millet and millet products. Dr. K. Dharmar, the chief guest of this seminar and expo, elaborated on the role of ICSSR in spreading the message of millet importance across society. He also highlighted the role of the chief guest in disseminating scientific knowledge among the farmers, students, research scholars, and faculty.

TECHNICAL SESSIONS

TECHNICAL SESSION 1

The first lecture was delivered by Dr. K. Dharmar. He delivered an excellent lecture and shared information on the necessity of millet's contribution to agriculture. He extended his lecture on how millets act as an alternative source of macronutrients. Key points addressed in this lecture are: The International Year of Millets stands as a pivotal moment, drawing global attention to the vital role of these small-seeded, resilient grains in nourishing both people and the planet. This designated year serves as a platform to raise awareness, celebrate diversity, and promote the sustainable production and consumption of millets worldwide. Finally, he concluded the speech by saying that this year of small grains serves as a platform to promote sustainable production and consumption of small grains worldwide to create awareness and diversity.

TECHNICAL SESSION 2

The second lecture was delivered by Mr. V.S. Arunachalam. He explained about millet production. He added that millets are one of the oldest food grains known to mankind and possibly the first cereal grain used for domestic purposes. He also mentioned that: For centuries, millets have been a prized crop in India and are the staple diet of nearly 1/3 of the world's population. They can adapt themselves to marginal soils and varied environmental conditions. Millets are tasty grains that have a mildly sweet, nut-like flavor. Millets are rich sources of protein, dietary fiber, energy, and minerals when compared to rice. He explained the production methods of food products made from small grains and how to market them.

TECHNICAL SESSION 3

Mr. R. Mahendramani gave his lecture. He enthusiastically shared information about wild millet varieties and clearly explained the types of small grains, their detection methods, and their cultivable locations. The valid points of his special talk are: Small millets are more than just finger millet (Eleusine coracana (L.) Gaertn.) and include kodo millet (Paspalum scrobiculatum L.), little millet (Panicum sumatrense Roth. Ex Roemer and Schultes), foxtail millet (Setaria italica L.), proso millet (Panicum miliaceum L.), and barnyard millet (Echinochloa frumentacea Link). Millets are most commonly available in the form of pearled and hulled kinds. Millets are a group of small-seeded grasses that have been cultivated for centuries. They are highly resilient and well-adapted to diverse climates, making them a reliable source of nutrition in challenging agricultural conditions. In the face of climate change and unpredictable weather patterns, millets emerge as a resilient and sustainable option for food production. Finally, in his speech, he said that it is very important to identify small grains and protect them.

TECHNICAL SESSION 4

The last session of the first-day seminar was handled by Mr. E. Senthil Kumar. He explained about organic farm management practices. He extended his lecture on crop rotation, which is used to maintain soil fertility and improve crop protection from various pests. His speech included: Organic nutrient management is based on the improvement of soil organic matter through manuring, composting, and mulching. Growing cover crops with beneficial practices for controlling insect pests and weeds, preventing soil erosion, and improving the nutrient content in the soil. Preventive crop protection measures, choosing resistant varieties, adoption of planting or sowing, and harvesting time. Recycling material and Relying on renewable resources. He also mentioned the cultivation methods, which are characterized by low investment and high yield.

TECHNICAL SESSION 5

The first session of the second day was handled by the resource person, Dr. M. Girija. She mentioned that the key advantage of millets is their nutritional value. She also elaborated the following points in the lecture: These grains are rich in nutrients such as fiber, vitamins, and minerals. Introducing millet into our diets can contribute to a more balanced and healthier nutrition profile, addressing malnutrition and related health issues. In conclusion, recognizing the importance of millet in the context of food security is crucial. Embracing these resilient grains can lead to a more sustainable and nutritionally diverse food system. As individuals, communities, and nations, let us join hands in promoting the cultivation and consumption of millets to ensure a more secure future. She concluded her speech by saying that it ensures a sustainable future and gave some ideas regarding.

TECHNICAL SESSION 6

The next session was continued by the resource person, Mr. G. Maren. He explained the importance of millets and consumption methods. The point he emphasised in his talk are: They are also glycemic index-low and gluten-free, making them perfect for anyone with diabetes or celiac disease. Throughout the world, they are being promoted as alternatives to regular cereals to deal with lifestyle-based common diseases such as diabetes, heart disease, etc. He concluded the speech by saying that grains are the best food in the world.

TECHNICAL SESSION 7

This session was handled by Mr. M. Chandrasekar. He briefly explained the advantages of organic millet cultivation. He explained the following key points in his lecture: Organic farming helps to prevent environmental degradation and can be used to regenerate degraded areas. Organic farming helps to avoid chain reactions in the environment from chemical sprays and dust. Organically grown crops are believed to provide healthier and nutritionally superior food for humans and animals than those grown with commercial fertilizers. Organically grown crops are more resistant to diseases and insects, so only a few chemical sprays or other protective treatments are required. There is an increasing consumer demand for agricultural products that are free of toxic chemical residues. Organically grown products gain importance because of their high quality and premium price, in addition to being free from toxic residues. Organic fertilizers are considered complete plant food. Organic matter restores the pH of the soil, which may become acidic due to the continuous application of chemical fertilizers. As a whole, the adoption of organic farming provides a better and more balanced environment, better products, and better living conditions for human beings.

TECHNICAL SESSION 8

The session was handled by Dr. V. S. Ramachadran. He explained about climate change and biodiversity loss in millets. The key points of his lecture were: Human activity has already altered over 70 percent of all ice-free land. When land is converted for agriculture, some animal and plant species may lose their habitat and face extinction. But it is playing an increasingly important role in the decline of biodiversity. Climate change has altered marine, terrestrial, and freshwater ecosystems around the world. It has caused the loss of local species, increased diseases, and driven mass mortality of plants and animals, resulting in the first climate-driven extinctions. The threat posed by climate change to biodiversity is expected to increase, yet thriving ecosystems can also help reduce the impacts of climate change. If current rates of warming continue, by 2030 global temperatures could increase by more than 1.5°C (2.7°F) compared to before the Industrial Revolution. A major impact of climate change on biodiversity is the increase in the intensity and frequency of fires, storms, or periods of drought.

Millets Expo

On the third day, Millets exhibition was held. In this exhibition, students of the botany department exhibited more than 25 millet exhibits. More than 20 types of small-grain dishes were also prepared by the students and they explained the importance of small grains to other department students and farmers at this special expo. More than 300 students, teachers, and farmers visited this expo and enjoyed it.

Valedictory session

The valedictory address was given by the former principal, Dr. N. Rajakumar. He exclaimed the arrangement of the seminar and expo and appreciated the faculty, Department of Botany, their academic innovation, and student empowerment. He advised the students that they should be like an ascending cell sap and be self-confident.

Vote of thanks

The vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. A. Sarvalingam Organizing secretary, department of Botany, NGM College. He conveyed his gratitude to the ICSSR and IOB, NGM College branch, the principal, management, head of the department, participants from other colleges, staff members of the UG and PG Department of Botany, Department of Zoology and Chemistry, scholars and students of UG and PG departments, photographers, technical and non-teaching staff.

He started his speech by talking about the history & cause of organic farming. He discusses the problems in the distribution of food, preservation, and post-harvest entomology in recent times. He conducted games in between the sessions to increase our logical thinking, which is something different to us, and it also included our active participation and curiosity about the session.

He explained the main thing, which is the techniques of multi-crop rotation, various aspects of organic farming, and different types of properties. He also suggested several books and documentaries on farming and (GMO) genetically modified seeds for better understanding and to increase the knowledge of organic farming.

DAY -3

After 2 days of workshop, students visit at Pragathi farm. It is one of our most memorable moments in this programme. Mr. P. Senthil Kumar explained about the farm and its work. The surprising part of the farm is the cow hostel and its maintenance. The farm mainly focused on the natural farming, which is the Amirthakaraisal tank and its preparation, bio-gas, solar dryer, irrigation systems used in different aspects, harvesting the solar energy, recycling the waste, feeding the bacteria, and highlighting the mulching process, i.e., on-the-spot compost, dead & live mulching. After the field visit, Mr. P. Senthil Kumar explained the role of insects in farming. Finally certificates distributed by the all the participants. The programme was concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr. E. Neelamathi, Assistant professor, Department of Botany. The programme ended successfully with National Anthem.

Conclusion:

Organic farming was actually initiated as an answer to the environmental sufferings caused by the use of chemical pesticides and synthetic fertilizers. Organic farming aims to restoring soil health, maintenance of diversity, increase agricultural production, produce superior quality products, with high nutritional value and free from chemicals. This programme encouraged the participants to come forward with their own ideas and awareness of organic farming for a good health.
